

Abstract

Autor: Veronika Vysoudilová

Title: Case report of physiotherapy care for patient with multiple rib fracture surgery

General part: The general section of the thesis focuses on anatomy and kinesiology of thorax. This includes kinematics of respiratory movement and muscle chains connected to thorax. The next part summarizes the knowledge of traumatology, conservative and surgical treatment. The last section states the methods of medical rehabilitation used in treatment of this traumatic condition.

Special part: The special part presents a case report of physiotherapy care for patient who underwent surgery of multiple rib fracture.

Key words: Case therapy, fracture, ribs, thorax, stabilization